

JUST ADD MILK!

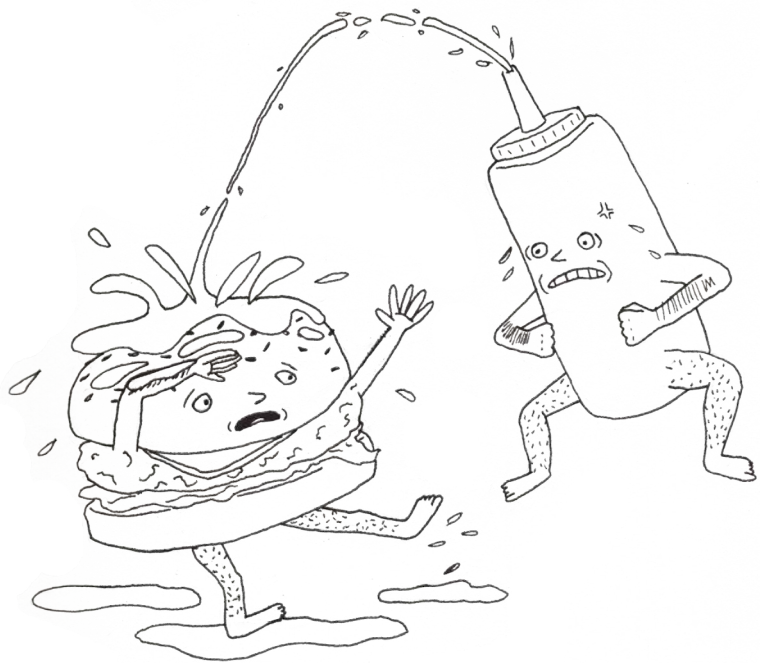

Inktober 2020

Inktober is a challenge where artists make one drawing per day for the month of October. We split up the work because we are lazy shitheads.

We came up with a "telephone"-style challenge where we gave each other a random new word each day, and combined it with the previous day's word for some chaotic combinations. Each drawing in the zine is connected to the one before and after it for * c o h e s i o n * .

Please enjoy our mind-vomit. :-)
